THREE GAMBLERS CAUGHT.

C H. Davison,

Detectives Carried John Heath, sr. Harry Riley and James Davis Away. John Heath, sr., Harry Riley and James Davis, members of the gambling crowd whose home was railed some weeks ago by Capt. William G. Baldwin and a posse from Richmond, under orders from Gov. O'Ferrall, were turned over to Capt. Bald-win by Detectives Helan and Flather this morning. They waived the formality of a requisition paper, were taken to Alexandria and confined in jail there. Charley, Jack and Ed Heath are still at large, but the father promised that they would survender themselves before night. George Heath and Jim LaPontaine, who were arrested on the night of the raid, are now out on $1,000 bail each.

The clier Heath declared this morning that he would tear down the building on the Virginia side of the Potomac, where so money has changed bands in the past few years, and never turn another card in Virginia. He requested Baldwin to announce his intention to the governor.

CAUCUS OF SOUTHERNERS

Republicans Called to Work for the House Clerkship.

COMBINE IS GIVEN A BLOW

Representative McCall of Tenness Dons Armor to Fight for Col. Tipton, Who Is a New Richmond to the Field—He Proposes His Colleagues Shall Have a Show for the Plums.

It can now be stated as a certainty that the Republicans of the Bouth will demand recognition in the selection of officers for the next House.

This intelligence is a trifle staggering in its effect upon those who have from the outset banked upon the success of a pow-erful combination, which, it is alleged, seeks to control the election of Clerk, Door-eeper and Sergeant-at-Arms.

With Col. McDowell of Pennsylvania for the first-named place, Mr. Glenn of New York for the second, and Mr. Russell of Missouri for the third, the supposition has pre-vailed that enough votes could be aggre-gated to push the slate through the caucus with little or no difficulty.

But the whole aspect of the pending con est has today been changed. Representative John E. McCall of the Eighth Tennessee District, a Republican to the core, and a young man of brains and energy, this morning arrived in the city.

NEW MAN FROM THE SOUTH. The first thing Mr. McCall did was to take off his coat, roll up his sleeves and prepare to advance in every possible way the interests of his friend, Col. Tipton, of Tennessee, who has established headquar ters in the Ebbitt House as a candidate for the doorkeepership.

Aside from being popular and in every way qualified for the place, Col. Tipton is basing his candidacy on the declaration that in the reorganization of the House some recognition should be given to the South.

Mr. McCall will take up this keynote

Mr. McCall will take up this keynote and make it the battle cry of his campaign. He will attempt to secure the solid and unanimous support of the twenty-three Southern members for Col. Tipton.

When this unification shall have been accomplished the Representatives from the South will be in a position to say to the East or the West: "We have a larger representation in Congress than at any period since reconstruction days. We are entitled to consideration in the allotment of the elective officers. We have twenty-three votes, which will be given to good men that you may designate for the other places, but we want the Doorkeepership, and what can you do for us?"

The startling character of this proposition is self-apparent. The Eastern members are presumably committed to the candidacy of Mr. Glenn, and therefore are unable to offer anything in return for the Southern yole. Southern vote.
WELCOME THE SITUATION.

On the other hand the West is only inter-ested in the success of General Henderson for the clerkship, and might be so situated for the clerkship, and might be so situated as to welcome the suggestion, and in return give Col. Tipton such a support as would make his calling and election stre. No such stone wall as this has heretofore confronted the managers of what is designated as the "combination." Its heighth, depth and possible impenetrability are apparent. The entering wedge of twenty-three Southern members, united and solidied on the one question of Col. Tuton's fied an the one question of Col. Tipton's candidacy, may unharse all the calculations of those who have up to this time consid-ered themselves beyond the reach of de feat.

In conversation this afternoon with The Times' reporter Mr. McCall said that he was distinctly in favor of the Republicans of the South being recognized in the organization of the House, and that while State pride and personal friendship made him primarily for Col. Tipton for doorkeeper. yet if Col. Tipton cannot win then he favors the good Southern Republican who can.

District Obliged to Show Its Hand in the Street Extension Matter.

Chief Justice Bingham's court was again filled with lawyers just before noon today, when the attorneys for the District, with special counsel A. S. Worthington, ap-peared and asked the court to order the marthat to make personal service against the property-owners in the territory covered by section No. 1 of the approved place of property-owners in the territory covered by section No. 1 of the approved plan of street extension who had not answered the pub-lished notices in the newspapers. A number of attorneys present then called upon the District officials to furnish the names of those who had not responded to the notice, and counsel for the petitioners, including Nathaniel Wilson, A. A. Lipscomb, and W. L. Cole, insisted that there was no reason why the persons who had alrendy answered should be served again. Mesers. Worthington and Thomas agreed with them. The court thereupon directed the District authorities to file a statement showing what awners had fulled to appear.

JUMPED THE TRACK. Narrow Escape From a Terrible Disaster on New York "L" Train. New York, Nov. 23 .- An accident which would have resulted disastrously except for the usual good linck which attends the ele-vated railroad, occurred on the Sixth avenue line. An engine drawing a train of cars jumped the track and nearly crashed

There were not many passengers in the train at the time, but those who were in the cars were thrown into commotion. The wooden guard rails along the track were torn and twisted by the rear wheels, which ploughed across them. The sound of the spliniered timbers created excitement in the street, where a number of workmen were repairing the pavements. It looked as if the engine was going to topple into the street. The first wheel remained on the track, and this prevented the engine from falling.

James Ray, the saloon-keeper on D street, near Thirteenth, who was con-victed of keeping a "fence" by a jury be-fore Judge Cox recently, has been released ipon his personal recognizance in the sum

The minimum penalty for receiving tolen property, Ray's crime, under the laws of the District, is one year's imprisonment in the penitientiary, where the property received is valued at more than $35. The maximum penalty is a three years sentence. Saloon-keeper Ray was convicted of receiving two gold watches, stolen by "Blood" Jones, one of the most notorious thieves in the country, valued at between $50 and $60.

Ray's case has been filled with a volume of interesting and sensational incidents. Upon the first day of his trial fully a score of the most prominent members of the Young Men's Democratic Glub testified to his excellent reputation. Thomas C. Taylor, the well-known criminal lawyer, made a vigorous fight for his client.

MR. BIRNEY'S ANNOUNCEMENT. Most of the evidence on the Government's side was on the opening day of the trial At the beginning of the second day at will be remembered, District Attorney Eirney, who was making as determined a fight for Ray's conviction as Mr. Taylor was for his acquittal, made the startling announce-ment that the jury had been tampered with. The incidents that followed have been fully described in The Times. Mr. Taylor instantly objected to such a statement in open court, before the very jury itself, Judge Cox sustained him, and the case proceeded. The same day Ray was convicted, almost as soon as the juros reached their room.

victed, almost as soon as the juros, reached their room.

His attorney filed a motion for a new trial, alleging that the statement of the District Attorney to the jury concerning tampering was improper, and also asserting that the jury was not an impartial one. In support of this statement Mr. Taylor filed the affidavit of J. D. Sullivan, a real estate man, saying that Foreman Mickum, of the jury had expressed an opinion to estate man, saying that Foreman Mickum, of the jury, had expressed an opinion to him concerning the Ray case.

Another affidavit was subsequently filed by Mr. Taylor, also going to show that the jury had not been impartial. In reply to the two affidavits Mr. Birney submitted four to show that Mickum had not made ante-trial statements. The motion for a new trial was to have been argued today and both the government and defense were and both the government and defense were making every effort to make a strong case. Mr. Ray and his attorney and Mr. Birney appeared in open court late yesterday after-noon, and Mr. Taylor withdrew the motion for a new trial. Judge Cox then directed the clerk to enter the order of "sentence convenient during good behavior: nersonal suspended during good behavior; personal recognizance $100 taken." Ray's bonds man was then discharged and the prisoner was released.

PROMISED TO QUIT. Mr. Birney's answer when asked how Ray happened to be let down so casy after heav-ep and earth had been moved to convict him was: "He has promised to quit the business and get out of the place. He will leave the Division. That was the principal reason we agreed to the sus-pension of sentence."

The district attorney dismissed the subject without giving any secondary reasons for the rather startling step he had acmissed in, and burried into court when he had an engagement.

There was no little surprise expressed about the city half this morning at the manner in which Ray got off. The sudden action of the district atterney in changing from an aggressive policy to an acquies-ing disposition was remarked upon and the whole case discussed by lawyers in all its Where Ray is going or what business he will follow is not known, his counsel being able only to state that he was to go out of the saloon business in the Division.

DULL AND LISTLESS Stupid Week on the Great New York Exchange Ends Stupidly.

Exchange Ends Stupidly.

New York, Nov. 23.—Trading at the Stock Exchange during the first hour of business was confined entirely to the professional operators. Leather preferred, Tobacco, Sugar and Chicago Gas were weak.

In the case of Tobacco, which sold at the lowest point of the week, it was said that the opposition cigarettes will be placed on the Eastern market next month.

The grangers, Western Union, and Kansas The grangers, Western Union, and Kansas & Texas preferred were inactive, but generally a fraction higher. London bought e little St. Paul. At 11 o'clock speculation was dull and listless. Ex-Senator Ingalls Recovered.

Atchison, Kan., Nov. 23.—Ex-Senato Ingalls returned here yesterday from Col orado Springs, where he had been compelled of lliness. He has now recovered. Washington Stock Exchange
